Safety at IQ

The safety instructions are hosted completely online by Secova

Every employee or student that works at the IQ must pass the instructions before effectively starting to work. An IQ account is mandatory for being able to pass the instructions. If the IQ account is freshly created (or was updated to have access to the safety system), you only will be able to login at Secova the next day after 3h am.

Safety refreshers

Instructions need to be refreshed at least once a year. You will receive a reminder once a course is due.

Previous safety instructions

The old slides and safety instructions have been archived here.
